because You guide everything on earth.
May we be comforted through all eternity
in this kingdom.
Amen.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We are gathered on the ancestral lands and waters of all Indigenous Peoples, who have left their footprints on Mother Earth before us.

We respectfully acknowledge, those who have walked on it, those who walk on it now, and future generations who have yet to walk upon it.

We pray to the Creator for strength and wisdom that all may continue to serve as stewards of the earth.

Education Development Charges Public Meetings

Public Meeting #1

EDC Policy

Review

What Is An Education Development Charge?

- An Education Development Charge is a development charge that is imposed under a bylaw respecting growth-related net education land costs incurred or proposed to be incurred by a School Board.
- This means it is a charge that is levied on new development that is paid by the developer/permit taker when the building permit is issued by the municipality.
- The revenue collected from the charge is then used by a school board to purchase land/school sites for new schools to be built upon.

Policy Review Public Meeting

Each EDC by-law has a set of underlying policies which help determine the structure and type of by-law that will be enacted.

Provincial legislation dictates that each School Board with an existing EDC by-law must conduct a review of its EDC policies prior to renewing their

EDC Policies

- Policy decisions made by the Board can play a key role in determining things like:
 - areas to which the bylaw applies,
 - the ability to have different charges for different types of housing developments, or

A Review Of Existing Policies

Jurisdiction Wide vs. Area Municipal (or Sub Area) Charges

The existing EDC bylaws apply to the Region of York. All the bylaws are applied in a uniform way (the same EDC rate) across the area of the bylaw.

Percentage of net education land costs to be borne by residential and non-residential development

School boards can allocate up to 40% of their EDC to non-residential development. The average around the Province is approximately 10% but ranges from 0% to the mid-20's.

The existing bylaws both have a 10% non-residential allocation.

Uniform charges for all types of development vs. differentiated charges

School boards can have one rate that applies to all types of residential development in the same way (i.e. a low-density single family type home pays the same rate as a townhouse or a condo) or the school board can have a different rate dependent on the type of
